Challenges

1 What significant economic, social or environmental obstacles have you encountered in the production, procurement, use and/or promotion of CSPO and what efforts did you make to mitigate or resolve them?

The gap between RSPO and "conventional" practices for growers remains extremely wide. Growers compliant with the RSPO are at a serious disadvantage to non-RSPO growers, in particular for expansion and for cooperation with smallholders. RSPO requirements are difficult to understand and accept by some stakeholders, in particular authorities, local businesses, and communities. SIPEF incorporates RSPO requirements in its internal processes so as to make them the norm of our business, not an "external" requirement, and conducts awareness sessions on RSPO P&C and their benefits.

Yes
