Challenges

1 What significant economic, social or environmental obstacles have you encountered in the production, procurement, use and/or promotion of CSPO and what efforts did you make to mitigate or resolve them?

Fantasy Cookie uses a smaller percentage of palm oil fraction compared to our usage of straight process CPO OR CPKO. The customer interest for CSPO in other (non European) regions of the world is still limited and the additional cost for CSPO seems in many cases an important driver for customers not to make the change yet to a physical CSPO supply chain model. As the production of certified CSPO continues to grow over the next couple of years in the countries of origin and ultimately CSPO becomes the norm, it will become easier both from an (global) availability & cost perspective, for customers to start using products based on accredited certified sustainable palm oil fractions or derivatives.

2 In addition to the actions already reported in this ACOP how has your organization supported the vision of RSPO to transform markets in other ways? (e.g. Funding; Engagement with key stakeholders; Business to business education/outreach)

The RSPO Principles are part of our palm oil policy and are fully endorsed by Fantasy Cookie. In 2017 we have had multiple engagement with our direct vendor base who represent 96% of our global volumes of palm oil. We expect our suppliers to strictly adhere to our policy and have a policy which complaint to ours.
