We have been engaging on regularly basis with suppliers of palm oil products (crude palm oil and palm oil kernels) to collect information on the traceability of the palm oil entering its supply chain, back to mills and, since 2022, back to plantations. In order to reach 100%, supplier engagement will be essential to collect additional information such as data on plantation boundaries and their connection with mills, as well as extending the analysis to cover suppliers. Supplier engagement on no deforestation topics will unlock missing information and enable investigation of deforestation alerts that are detected. We are working on an action plan with our suppliers to comply with EU deforestation regulation.

In order to deliver pladis' commitment to have 100% of its palm oil originating from deforestation-free verified plantations by 2030, pladis relies on the Starling satellite monitoring system. This innovative initiative, developed by one of leading NGO's and Airbus -the global aerospace corporation - verifies that the plantations in its portfolio have not contributed to deforestation. pladis piloted Starling in 2020 with its main palm oil supplier and expanded its use to cover 80% of pladis' palm oil volumes

Based on the traceability information collected from our tier-one suppliers, related NGO provides pladis with a list of potential breaches of its 'No Deforestation', as well as 'Human Rights' policies.

To this end, NGO uses the public grievance systems, as published by some NGOs or suppliers themselves, and assists pladis when engaging with suppliers on those grievances. pladis had 40% of its total palm oil volumes deforestation-free verified. This does not mean that the remaining volumes are associated with deforestation: in order to reach 100%, supplier engagement will be essential to collect additional information such as data on plantation boundaries and their connection with mills, as well as extending the analysis to cover the rest of pladis' suppliers. Supplier engagement on no deforestation topics will unlock missing information and enable investigation of deforestation alerts that are detected. _____
