Next to that AAK has partnered with Proforest and field tested a smallholder code of practice in India.
Challenges

1 What significant economic, social or environmental obstacles have you encountered in the production, procurement, use and/or promotion of CSPO and what efforts did you make to mitigate or resolve them?

- The limited uptake of CSPO in the biggest consumption markets China and India.
- Consumer goods companies require verification and not necessarily requesting RSPO certified supply.
- The negative image of palm as an oil ingredient resulting in no palm initiatives and marketing thereof.
- Continued NGO pressure also challenging the RSPO on its ability to guarantee a deforestation free supply chain.

2 In addition to the actions already reported in this ACOP how has your organization supported the vision of RSPO to transform markets in other ways? (e.g. Funding; Engagement with key stakeholders; Business to business education/outreach)

Continued business to business education. Supporting development of tools to help smallholders working towards RSPO certification. Supporting a balanced debate in multiple customer meetings as well as NGO meetings.
